This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTORY.

The aim of this work is to give a complete index to the educational system of the United States and Canada. The information has been thoroughly revised and brought down to date, and before final printing of the book proofs submitted to the head of each institution for O. K., or correction.

In the main classification a complete list of the schools and colleges is given, together with information as to the kind of school, class of students admitted, religious denomination, year established, and the name of the head of the institution with title and degrees. The counter-classification will be found a ready reference for any particular class of schools. The Public School system is fully covered by complete lists of the State Educational Officials, and county superintendents of schools. The lists of College Greek-Letter Fraternities, undergraduate publications, Foreign Universities, etc., have been added for the purpose of making the book a complete educational directory, containing information upon every subject pertaining to colleges and schools. It is believed the work will be found of value to every one in any way associated with educational institutions, or engaged in educational work.

Acknowledgement is made to the various State Superintendents of Public Instruction in this country, and to the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners of Education of the Provinces of Canada, for their kind co-operation and assistance in compiling the information regarding the school systems; also to the editors of various fraternity and college papers for the assistance rendered by them in the departments of Greek-Letter Fraternities and college publications.

School's announcement.—The plan on which this school is conducted recommends itself especially to teachers holding positions of responsibility, not only as a thorough Normal School, but also as an opportunity for recreation. The work is so adjusted that material of great value, both technical and theoretical, is made available for teachers through the medium of private lessons, lectures, talks, and illustrations. The frequency of the pupil's contact with the teacher, and the fund of excellent material that is offered, enables students to carry away with them valuable suggestions which they can work out in their practice and teaching during the entire year.

School's announcement.—The plan on which this school is conducted recommends itself especially to teachers holding positions of responsibility, not only as a thorough Normal School, but also as an opportunity for recreation. The work is so adjusted that material of great value, both technical and theoretical, is made available for teachers through the medium of private lessons, lectures, talks, and illustrations. The frequency of the pupil's contact with the teacher, and the fund of excellent material that is offered, enables students to carry away with them valuable suggestions which they can work out in their practice and teaching during the entire year.

Kentucky two years ago enacted a law allowing the commissioners to use a part of the school fund for libraries, one to be at the commissioner's office, and then as much as ten dollars for each school district if the people would raise ten dollars. As a result, in two years, every county has a local library in the court house, and there is a library for every 720 children in Kentucky and one book for every ten children.

While Vermont has the town, and not the county, system of schools, the examiners of teachers perform many of the functions of county superintendents of other states. Aside from the examination and certification of teachers, their legal duties in connection with summer schools and institutes, appeals from school patrons, reports to the State Superintendent's office, records of teachers, their giving information and advice frequently sought by teachers and school officers, and their influential position combine to make them in effect county superintendents rather than examiners.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Population, 5,371,051. Area, 3,456.3 Sq. Mi.

Comprises seven provinces, as follows: Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, British Columbia and the Northwest Territories.

GENERAL EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM OF CANADA.

By the British North American act of 1867 the right to legislate on matters respecting education was left to the governments of the four provinces (Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick), which were then united under the general name of Dominion of Canada. The same right has been assured also to the Provinces that have since entered the confederation (Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, British Columbia, Northwest Territories).

The first system of public education organized in the provinces, that of Ontario, was distinctively a system under public or governmental control, and as such has been the model followed more or less closely by all the other Provinces excepting Quebec.

This system embodies features drawn from the school systems of New England and New York, but it differs from these especially by the larger provision for centralized control. The educational systems of the respective provinces, and their colleges and other higher institutions of learning, are as follows:

ONTARIO.

Ontario maintains a comprehensive system of education extending from the kindergartens (introduced into the system in 1882, now numbering 120, with an enrollment of 11,234 pupils) to the provincial university, which derives a portion of its income ($118,000 in 1900) from public lands and under a recent law (university act of 1900) must report annually to the lieutenant-governor. The characteristic features of the system are the centralized control, securing uniformity of standards and school equipment throughout the provinces; the very equitable regulations in regard to separate schools for Roman Catholic and for Protestant pupils, where desired; the provision for assuring the professional training of all teachers, and the close correlation of the several grades of schools by means of well-considered courses of study, uniform text-books, and examinations conducted by the central authority.

The apex of the system is the university at Toronto, which comprises the University Colege and ten other faculties and departments, namely, Law, Medicine, Arts, Agriculture, Pedagogy, Dentistry, Music, Pharmacy, Applied Science, and Engineering.

The public schools of British Columbia are free, nonsectarian, and supported entirely by provincial grants, excepting the schools of incorporated cities and towns (at present four in number—Nanaimo, New Westminster, Vancouver, and Victoria). The members of the provincial executive council constitute a council of public instruction; the chief officer of education and ex-officio secretary of the council is the superintendent, appointed by the lieutenant-governor with the concurrence of the council. The educational officers of the province are as follows:

SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.—Alexander Robinson, B. A., Victoria.

QUEBEC.

The public school system of Quebec had its origin in parochial schools, which were fostered from the earliest settlement of the colony and which were recognized as the basis of the public system of education by a law of 1846. Peculiar difficulties were experienced in the development of the system because of the religious differences of the French and English populations. The former were adherents of the Roman Catholic Church and naturally resisted all efforts that threatened their relations with the religious schools of which they were staunch supporters. After a period of tentative efforts, a policy was adopted in 1875 which has proved satisfactory to the Roman Catholics, who form the vast majority of the population (1,429,-186 against 219,712, census of 1901), while at the same time it affords protection for the rights of the Protestant minority. The system established provides for the separate control of Roman Catholic and Protestant schools without destroying their organic unity.

MANITOBA.

The present school system of Manitoba was preceded by a system of separate schools for Roman Catholic and for Protestant children, the general administration of the schools being intrusted (law of 1871) to a board of education composed of an equal number of Protestant and of Catholic members.

Elementary and intermediate and high schools are maintained, and the latter may be developed into collegiate institutions preparing students for matriculation at the university.

The provincial university, incorporated in 1879, completes the educational system of the Province. The university was constituted as an examining body on the model of the old London University. KAPPA SIGMA.

Founded at the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, in 1867. Modeled after an ancient European secret order, the Kirjath Sepher, now extinct, which flourished in the University of Bologna near the close of the fourteenth century, its rituals embracing many of the forms and ceremonies of this ancient order.

The badge of the fraternity is a crescent of chased gold with its horns turned downward and holding suspended a five-pointed star, enameled in black and with a narrow border of white enamel and gold. Within the star are the fraternity letters encircled by jewels. The crescent displays at its widest part the skull and crossed bones, while on one side are crossed swords and on the other crossed keys. The fraternity colors are maroon, old gold and peacock blue; the flower the lily-of-the-valley.

PHI KAPPA PSI.

Founded at Jefferson College, Canonsburg, Pa. (now united with Washington College in Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa.), in February, 1852. The idea of the fraternity was conceived at the time of an epidemic of typhoid fever in the college, when day after day those who were not prostrated by the disease sat at the bedsides of their afflicted friends, ministering to them. The warm friendships engendered in this trying time ripened into the fraternal sentiment which made the foundation of the fraternity possible.

The badge of the fraternity is a shield of gold, displaying near its top an eye, on each side of which is a star; across the center of the shield are the fraternity letters and beneath is an antique lamp. The border is usually jeweled. The fraternity colors are pink and lavender.

FOREIGN UNIVERSITIES.

The constantly increasing number of American graduate students, and faculty members, who yearly seek doctorates in foreign universities makes it not inappropriate, in a book whose purpose is to furnish inquirers with a complete educational directory, to incorporate the following list of the leading foreign institutions. For the data herein contained the compilers are indebted to pamphlets and reports issued by many foreign countries, to the Consular Reports of our consuls in various European ports, and to numerous statistical works, among which some of the excellent reports of Mr. W. T. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, stand at the head.

Attendance at German Universities.

The number of foreigners who were matriculated in twenty-one of the leading German universities during 1902 was 2,783, of whom 708 studied philosophy, philology and history; 649 studied mathematics and natural sciences; 585 studied medicine; 323 studied law and economics; 147 Protestant theology; 156 forestry and administration; 148 agriculture; 26 pharmacy, and 18 dentistry.

As to the nationality of the foreign students, 353 were Americans, almost all from the United States; 154 from Asia, almost all from Japan, and 2,085 were from the various countries of Europe, Russia being most largely represented, with 717 students.

Of the 353 American students attending the above universities, by far the greater number—156—attended the University of Berlin; 59 attended at Leipsig, and 21 at Heidelberg, these three standing at the head of German universities. Berlin is great in medicine and philosophy; Heidelberg is also great not only in these two branches of learning, but in law and chemistry, and Leipzig stands at the head in history and economics. While many American universities have post-graduate courses fully equal to any of the great German schools, the German system, however, is perhaps more favorable to specialists, who are permitted to devote their whole time and energy solely to their chosen work.

The lectures in most German universities begin about the 15th of October and close on the 15th of March, this period comprising what is known as the winter semester. The summer semester begins on the 15th of April and closes about the end of July. This semester is largely taken advantage of by American professors because of its so nearly coinciding with the vacation period in American colleges. American students are permitted to matriculate in German universities on the presentation of a passport. If it is the intention of the student to procure a degree, however, he must either present a college diploma or pass an examination before being admitted as a candidate.

French Universities.

Until 1895 few foreign students, and especially few American students, were attracted to the French universities, because of the difficulties in securing degrees. The German doctorates could be gained with comparative ease, and the German universities, therefore, drew the bulk of the foreign students. In that year, however, a committee was formed in Paris (Comite Franco-Americain), with an advisory branch in Washington, with the purpose of familiarizing American students with the facilities for advanced study offered by the French universities, and with the conditions for admission to the same. A new university doctorate was created by this commission, and sanctioned by ministerial decree in 1897, making doctorates and diplomas available to foreign students in the entire University system of the country.

The Universities form the central unit of the French educational system. They are under the supervision of the Department of Higher Education, and their professors are appointed by the President of the Republic in advice with the Minister of Public Instruction. The principal university is that of Paris, with over 12,000 students, and conferring doctorates of letters, sciences, medicine, pharmacy and Protestant theology. There are fifteen other state universities located throughout the country and offering doctorates in these and other special branches of learning.

English Universities.

Oxford University and the Rhodes Scholarships.

American interest in English universities, and especially in the greatest of them, Oxford, has been heightened within recent years by the system of American scholarships in this school provided for in the will of the late Cecil Rhodes. By the provisions of this will, one hundred free perpetual scholarships are established in the University of Oxford for American students, two for each state and territory in the United States. Each scholarship amounts to the annual sum of 300 pounds, approximately $1,500, and is tenable at any college in the University of Oxford for three consecutive academic years.

These scholarships are popularly known as the "Rhodes Scholarships," although in the will they are called the "American Scholarships." The purpose of the founder was to bring about a more intimate and sympathetic acquaintance between America and England, or, using his own words in the will, "the union of the English-speaking peoples throughout the world." The general provisions of the will with respect to the scholarships and the qualifications necessary to secure them are given in the subjoined paragraphs from the will:

AMERICAN SCHOLARSHIPS.

"I further direct my trustees to establish additional scholarships sufficient in number for the appropriation in the next following clause hereof directed, and those scholarships I sometimes hereinafter refer to as 'the American scholarships.'

"I appropriate two of the American scholarships to each of the present States and Territories of the United States of North America, provided that if any of the said Territories shall in my lifetime be admitted as a State, the scholarships appropriated to such Territory shall be appropriated to such State, and that my trustees may in their uncontrolled discretion withhold for such time as they shall think fit the appropriation of scholarships to any Territory.

"I direct that of the two scholarships appropriated to a State or Territory not more than one shall be filled up in any year, so that at no time shall more than two scholarships be held for the same State or Territory.

CONDITIONS.

"My desire being that the students who shall be elected to the scholarships shall not be merely bookworms, I direct that in the election of a student to a scholarship, regard shall be had to (i) his literary and scholastic attainments; (ii) his fondness of and success in many outdoor sports, such as cricket, football, and the like; (iii) his qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for the protection of the weak, kindliness, unselfishness, and fellowship; and (iv) his exhibition during school days of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates, for those latter attributes will be likely in after life to guide him to esteem the performance of public duties as his highest aim. As mere suggestions for the guidance of those who will have the choice of students for the scholarships, I record that (i) my ideal qualified student would combine these four qualifications in the proportions of three-tenths for the first, two-tenths for the second, three-tenths for the third, and two-tenths for the fourth qualifications, so that, according to my ideas, if the maximum number of marks for any scholarship were 200, they would be apportioned as follows: Sixty to each of the first and third qualifications, and 40 to each of the second and fourth qualifications; (ii) the marks for the several qualifications would be awarded independently as follows (that is to say): The marks for the first qualification by examination, for the second and third qualifications, respectively, by ballot by the fellow-students of the candidates, and for the fourth qualification by the head master of the candidate's school; and (iii) the results of the awards (that is to say, the marks obtained by each candidate for each qualification) would be sent as soon as possible for consideration to the trustees or to some person or persons appointed to receive the same, and the person or persons so appointed would ascertain by averaging the marks in blocks of 20 marks each of all candidates the best ideal qualified students.

"No student shall be qualified or disqualified for election to a scholarship on account of his race or religious opinions.

"Except in the cases of the four schools hereinbefore mentioned, the election to scholarships shall be by the trustees, after such (if any) consultation as they shall think fit with the minister having the control of education in such colony, province, State, or Territory.

"A qualified student who has been elected as aforesaid shall, within six calendar months after his election, or as soon thereafter as he can be admitted into residence, or within such extended time as my trustees shall allow, commence residence as an undergraduate at some college in the University of Oxford.

"The scholarships shall be payable to him from the time when he shall commence such residence.

"I desire that the scholars holding the scholarships shall be distributed among the colleges of the University of Oxford, and not resort in undue numbers to one or more colleges only.

"Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, my trustees may, in their uncontrolled discretion, suspend for such time as they shall think fit, or remove, any scholar from his scholarship."

The executors of the will and trustees of the scholarship fund, named by Mr. Rhodes, were the Earl of Roseberry, Earl Gray, Lord Milner, Mr. Alfred Belt, Dr. L. S. Jameson, Mr. L. L. Mitchell and Mr. R. F. Hawksley. Information concerning the scholarships, and the dates when granted, can be procured from the President of the State University of each of the respective states and territories.

THE OXFORD COLLEGES.

The colleges of Oxford were an outgrowth of the halls or hostels system of the early time—those little groups of scholars, often only four or five in number, who banded themselves together for mutual advantage, rented a little house or hut, chose their leader (finally known as principal), as a means to some sort of order, and began their studies. After a while these became independent communities after the fashion of boarding houses, each governed by a master under authority of the university. Naturally they multiplied, and the colleges which supplanted them grew by degrees, with the help of many benefactions, until they numbered some fifteen during the Middle Ages, and now number over twenty, their order in time being as follows:

1. University College 1249-1280
2. Balliol College 1261-1282

The Nature Library

The only group of books on natural history that gives scientifically accurate information in simple, narrative style, and in a way that makes it equally available for studious reference, casual entertainment, or supplementary reading.

"As necessary as a dictionary and far more interesting"

W. D. CRAMER, Professor of Biology, Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Mich.
"After examination I can say that the Nature Library far exceeds my fondest expectations and will better serve me than any set of nature books I possess. The illustrating is superb and is one of the strong features of the set. My students find it a very valuable aid in their study."

HARRIET H. KEITH, Instructor in Pedagogy, Normal College, New York City.
"The NATURE LIBRARY is a treasure-house of just such information as the teacher of Nature Study needs and that modern methods require. The best books selected from the various departments of nature study, arranged for handy reference, in language not too technical, with pictures that make identification of specimens reasonably certain, they are of equal value to the teacher and to the scientific specialist."

Our Educational Department Established by the steady demand from schools and colleges for our books in Nature and Science, Biography and History, English and Literature, and Domestic Science. For intensely interesting supplementary material in any of these subjects, write for our special catalogs.

Revolution in Shorthand

By a Court Reporter of over 20 Years' Experience

Have You Ever Thought or seen, a shorthand system so constructed that all the words are fully vocalized?

Have You Ever Thought such a system a possibility?

Have You Ever Thought that such a system could be the speediest?

Have You Ever Thought that such a system could be invented without resorting to arbitrary rules and contractions?

Have You Ever Thought that such a system must be the best and most legible?

Have You Ever Thought that such a system could be given to the world with a few powerful rules?

Have You Ever Thought that distinctions such as between the words "summers" and "summaries," etc., should be made?

Have You Ever Thought that with such a system your students would be turned out first-class?

Have You Ever Thought that if such a system could be invented it had to be accomplished by a shorthand reporter and not mere theorists?

If you have ever given it a thought do you not think such a system must of necessity be purely phonetic?

Information cheerfully furnished on application.
